"Cards of Pain RLD" by Elite Pain

"Cards of Pain" is a game created by Elite Pain whereby a contestant is presented with 5 body parts and 100 strokes to be distributed amongst them. The body part options are the feet, the back, the breasts, the pussy, and the ass. After the contestant distributes the strokes, the contestant selects a body part to be punished, and then draws a card of chance, to see if the challenge becomes more painful, or less painful. In the reloaded version, if a contestant draws a card that she doesn't like, she may draw another card in exchange for a ten stroke penalty added on to the number of strokes for that body part. For example, if a contestant draws a card that doubles the number of strokes assigned to a body part, she may draw a second card that makes it easier to endure, but she will at least have to serve out the ten stroke penalty. The challenge can go from 100 strokes down to 10 with one card. Sounds easy enough, right?

Zazie, who has played these types of games before (see my reviews for "Wheel of Pain 29" <http://ralphus.net/reviews/other/wheelofpain29a.htm> , for example) takes this new challenge as something she can win. She's won before, and this possibility of escaping the wrath of the lash entices her to try again. Her only concern is her fresh tattoo, which she loves, and which her artists warned her might be permanently damaged by the wounds of a whipping. She alerts the dominatrix to this, and proceeds with the game.

Except there are two issues. First, Zazie confuses Ariel for Tatiana. Ariel and Tatiana are bitter rivals in the pain game, and the last thing Ariel wants is to be confused for someone she loathes. Second, the doms aren't here for the contestant, they're here to get the contestant to quit the game so that they get the prize money. If the contestant quits, the contestant gets nothing and the doms get it all.

So, on with the game.

Zazie distributes her 100 strokes amongst her body parts, trying to avoid assigning many to her back due to her tattoo. Kids, let this be a warning to you: don't get tattoos.

Zazie decides to get the punishment to her breasts completed first. She had written 20 strokes for them, and the chance card adds another 5, for a total of 25 strokes to her soft, perky breasts.

After stripping off her cute summery outfit, Zazie is bound with her arms spread wide and slightly elevated, such that she can hang from her wrists should her legs give out from the pain. Lady Amanda, one of the most experienced doms in the Elite Pain stable, will be given the honors of whipping the petite, tightly-muscled blonde victim. Lady Amanda, who is quite adept at the whip, lands her blows so fast that the skin doesn't even have time to bounce. The lash just cuts right into the skin from its speed, leaving behind a very angry red mark.

If there's one thing I've learned from the Elite Pain game films, its that the doms love to strike nipples. They particularly love watching nipples bleed. For this reason, they will criss-cross strokes, drawing one welt over another, to raise the skin and leave painful bruises underneath. Zazie didn't have this insight, and raises a complaint.

<http://elitepain.com>

- You could avoid my nipple, that is my problem...
- So you wanna tell me what to hit?

For Lady Amanda, this just makes the challenge more entertaining for her, because if there's one thing she loves, it's making contestants scream. And if there's one thing she doesn't love, it's contestants talking back to her. Poor Zazie. Poor Zazie's right nipple. At one point Lady Amanda even plays with it with her finger, causing Zazie to flinch and try to escape. Zazie's angry glare after being poked is one for the ages! Lady Amanda drinks it in like Madam Bathory in a tub full of debutante blood.

With her front side ripped up with welts, Zazie decides to let the next punishment fall on her back. 10 strokes. Should be a piece of cake. Get it over with, come right back for the money. Easy. But this game isn't easy. When the chance card is flipped, it reveals that Zazie must count the strokes backwards. Easy enough when you're sitting in a chair with a clear head. But... have you ever gone to the dentist and been asked to count backwards? How far did you get? That's about how far Zazie gets. The doms have learned a few things in this game, and one of them is to engage the contestant in conversation, get her distracted, land a stroke, and wait for her to forget the counting order. The result is that the count starts over from 10. An experienced dom can raise the stroke count exponentially. As more blows rain down on a contestant's back, the less clear-headed the contestant becomes. "Are you sure that was 6 and not 4?". Boom. Back to 10 all over again. And let's not forget about that tattoo she loves so much. Do you think Lady Amanda spared her? Of course not.

We start all over again.

Somehow, Zazie manages to get through the challenge. With her chest and her back ripped up, she's forced to go lower, below the strike zones, and find fresh skin. She decides her pussy should be next: all 10 strokes of it. She turns the chance card to reveal... the doubler. Twice as many strokes now on all of the numbers she'd selected will fall on every part of her body. How can a person be so cruel as to whip a young woman that many times? Well, if that young woman needs some behavioral correction, and if there's money to be won, apparently it can be quite easy.

Zazie quickly decides that it's not worth it, but she doesn't want to lose the prize money she's won so far, so she takes a chance and draws another card. She's fortunate, sort of. Her body will be spared. Instead, she will take 20 more strokes to just her back... and her tattoo.

She's bound to the T-frame - a metal pole with a metal crossbar. Her wrists are fastened to the metal crossbar and her neck is locked to the upright pole. She looks like a convict about to get branded. Lady Amanda's whip does the branding, leaving red-hot angry whip marks across the petite blonde's back.

Zazie shows amazing fortitude and manages to get through the round.

Standing at the game board, she looks over the options. There are two body parts left, each with a chance card. She can take 25 blows to her legs, or 30 blows to her ass. She chooses her legs because of the lower number. Unfortunately for her, the chance card has different plans for her thighs. She will have to bear 70 blows instead.

Zazie blanches at the thought. 70! 70 blows to her thighs. She knows what it means and how it will feel. Of course, she can change the card and add 10 more strokes to the 25 she already has, and hope for the best on the next draw, but will have to bear 35 strokes.

Zazie takes a chance. Better to have 35 and a little bit of hope than the 70 she has drawn. Amanda brings in the deck of cards for Zazie to draw. Zazie reaches in and selects a card. The card shows...

DOM CHOICE

Which means Amanda can choose where the 35 strokes will fall. Will she choose Zazie right nipple? Will it be the back that is already so cut and angry?

Amanda chooses Zazie's back and the tattoo she values so much. Amanda also decides to share the enjoyment with Ariel. Why not? Up until now, Lady Ariel has only been the host and spectator. Lady Amanda has a bounty of pain to serve up, so she decides to let Lady Ariel do some spectating, too.

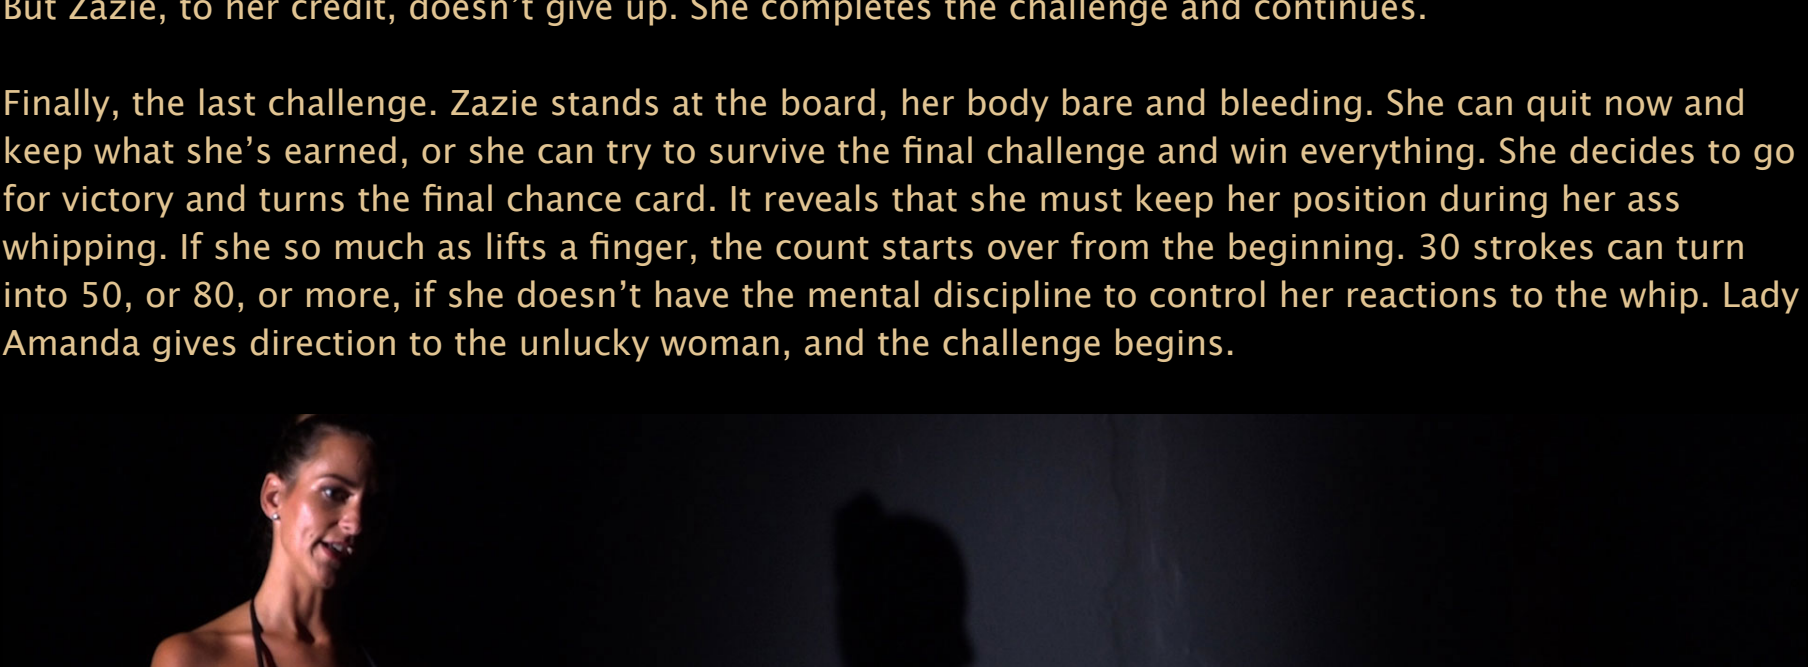

Zazie is bound arms over head. The two doms take turns whipping the helpless victim, taunting the bleeding woman about how they are doing color-correction to the artwork on her back. By the time they're done, Zazie's back looks like a piece of raw meat.

But Zazie, to her credit, doesn't give up. She completes the challenge and continues.

Finally, the last challenge. Zazie stands at the board, her body bare and bleeding. She can quit now and keep what she's earned, or she can try to survive the final challenge and win everything. She decides to go for victory and turns the final chance card. It reveals that she must keep her position during her ass whipping. If she so much as lifts a finger, the count starts over from the beginning. 30 strokes can turn into 50, or 80, or more, if she doesn't have the mental discipline to control her reactions to the whip. Lady Amanda gives direction to the unlucky woman, and the challenge begins.

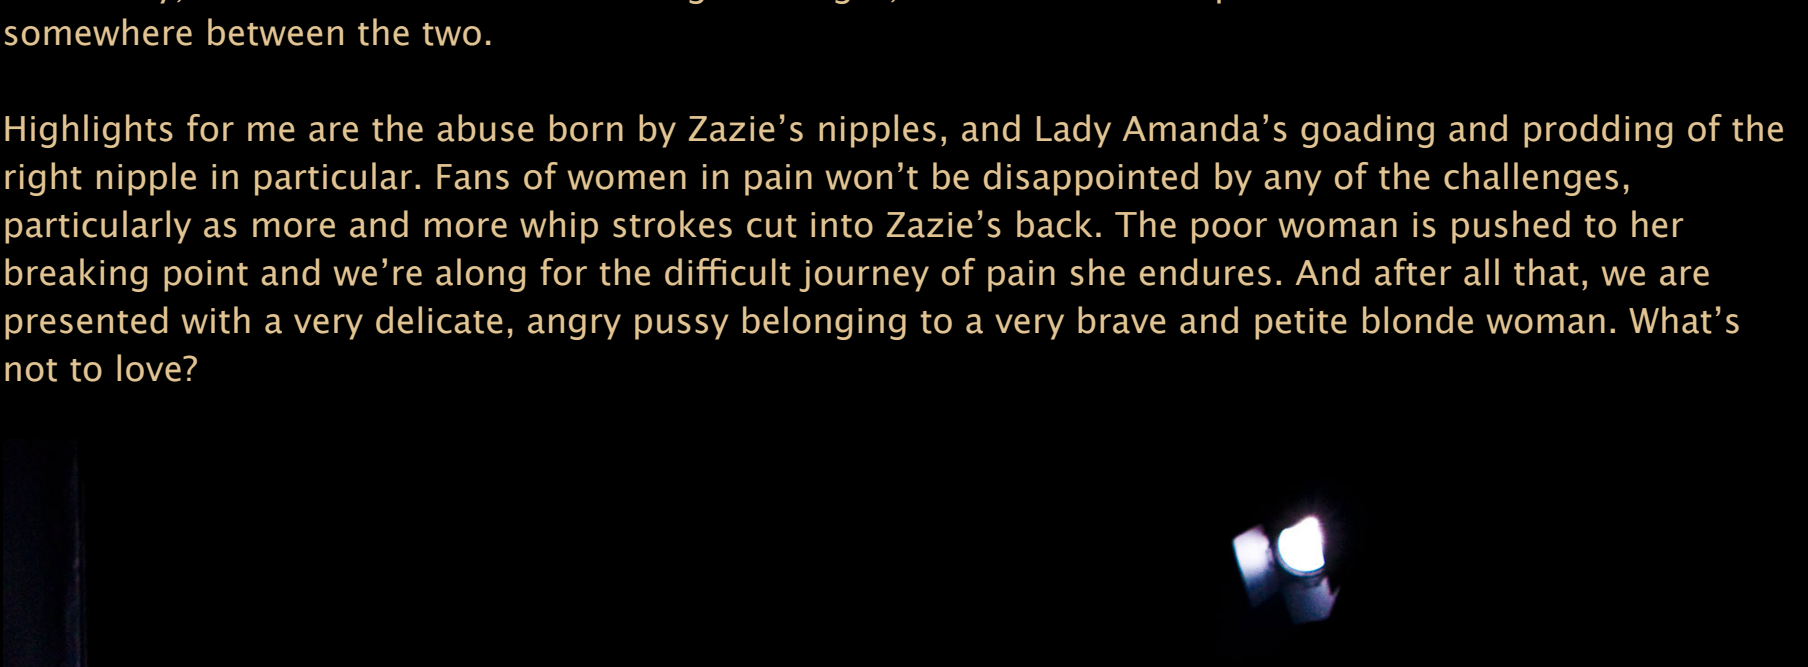

<http://elitepain.com>

You must maintain this position.
If you move we start over.

I won't tell you how it ends, but it ends spectacularly. There's nothing like a wounded animal to liven a man's day, or a dom's for that matter. Fight or flight, those are the two possibilities. Zazie's reaction falls somewhere between the two.

Highlights for me are the abuse born by Zazie's nipples, and Lady Amanda's goading and prodding of the right nipple in particular. Fans of women in pain won't be disappointed by any of the challenges, particularly as more and more whip strokes cut into Zazie's back. The poor woman is pushed to her breaking point and we're along for the difficult journey of pain she endures. And after all that, we are presented with a very delicate, angry pussy belonging to a very brave and petite blonde woman. What's not to love?

Another great movie from the producers of a lot of great movies about women being subjected to painful whipping. And if you think this movie is great, you'll really love the teaser at the end. Looks like we'll have another hit coming from the Elite Pain studios sometime this year.

My rating: A+

A few factual corrections:

She drew two times all, not just two times pussy.

She had a choice of soles or thighs and chose thighs; strokes were never going on her soles.

When she took the second card on thighs, and raised the number from 25 to 35, she didn't know (and we didn't know) they would go elsewhere until she drew the Dom's Choice card.

Ah, I misunderstood the cards. I'll go back and correct. Thanks!

I liked the review. Of course, I love Zazie. The problem for me was as usual--no soles! Zazie has beautiful feet and they deserve special attention! I saw the interview and she said that she would come back if her pussy wasn't whipped, so why not trade off pussy for soles? Nice scenario. She is long overdue for a good sole whipping Let's make it long and painful! The good side is I also love a good back whipping and Zazie is the perfect girl! Hope you can convince her to come back!
